"I took this photo from the highway today just before noon 2/4/20. Looked pretty fresh and not blown in much and the winds were howling. Largest part of the crown looked 6-8' tall right in the center. It connected across a pretty low angle shoulder to pull out the northern bowl." Photo: R. Griffen

Advisory Region

Bridger Range

Longitude

-110.94W

Latitude

45.79N

Avalanche Details: Natural Avalanche in Pinnacles, Bridger Range
Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Wed Feb 5, 2020GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Thu Feb 6, 2020
Bridger Range, 2020-02-05