Natural avalanche (bison trigger?) in YNP near Cooke

Out of Advisory Area
3/5/2021
Code
Notes

From obs: 3/6/21: "Observed several smallish avalanches in Yellowstone National Park today. The interesting thing about this one is the bison track that goes into the slide. No telling if the avalanche was triggered by the bison, but the shallow snowpack is about 1/2 faceted, so maybe it was remotely triggered. Resulting in a grizzly springtime snack??"

Number of slides
1
Number caught
0
Number buried
0
Images
Bison tracks and avalanche in YNP
Slab Thickness units centimeters
Single / Multiple / Red Flag
Single Avalanche
Advisory Year
20-21