

From IG post with #gnfacobs: "I triggered a small windslab, mid slope on the north face of Wilson. It was a a pretty stubborn slab that broke above me. Cross loaded from lookers right. 6-8" deep." Photo: B Gill

Advisory Region Northern Madison Longitude -111.33W Latitude 45.33N

Avalanche Details: Skier triggered wind slab on Wilson Peak Northern Madison, 2020-03-21